Fight for Vaccine Brewing

Experts warn of hoarding if the swine flu turns deadlier

LONDON | An ugly scramble is brewing over the swine flu vaccine — and when it becomes available, Britain, the United States and other nations could find that the contracts they signed with pharmaceutical companies are easily broken.

U.S. CONCERN

About 70 percent of the world's existing flu vaccines are made in Europe, and only a handful of countries are self-sufficient in vaccines. Even if the U.S. held onto all the swine flu vaccine it produces, it would still not be enough for all Americans.

Last week, the World Health Organization reported nearly 95,000 cases of swine flu, including 429 deaths worldwide. If swine flu turns deadlier in the winter, countries will likely be clamoring for any available vaccines.

"Pandemic vaccine will be a valuable and scarce resource, like oil or food during a famine," said David Fidler, an Indiana University professor who has consulted for WHO. "We've seen how countries behave in those situations, and it's not encouraging." (AP)

NONDAIRY SPREAD

We Can Believe It's Not Butter

People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals has come up with an idea for the Iowa State Fair — instead of using butter for a Michael Jackson sculpture, how about a nondairy spread? Officials with the fair, known for its butter cow, announced that they also would display a sculpture of the King of Pop. The public is voting on whether the statue should be created. (AP)

First, All Those Books Need to Go

A 60-foot-long dollar sign has been burned into the synthetic turf at a Long Island high school football field. A letter left on the field complains about how schools spend tax dollars. It defends the vandalism, saying the cost of the damage to the field "would seem small" compared to the amount the school district would save if taxpayers oversaw its budget. (AP)

Taking a Sand Against Urbanization

Edward Mellors, who's coordinating the construction of the U.K.'s largest-ever downtown beach, takes a break atop the sand. Up to 300 tons of the stuff was used to create the beach in Nottingham's Old Market Square. When it opens to the public on July 22, the spot will feature a paddling pool, putt-putt, a bungee trampoline, various forms of beach entertainment and seating for 200 people. (EXPRESS)

DECISIONS

Clown Lobby Wins Again

A proposed ban on mass releases of helium-filled balloons in Lubbock, Texas, has gone bust. Councilman Paul Beane floated the proposal, saying the ban was about preventing litter and being a good neighbor. The measure passed on first reading July 8. The second reading would have been Wednesday. But the proposal was withdrawn from the agenda after one councilman changed his vote. (AP)

Afghan War Force Could Be Boosted

Secretary Gates says he is also considering expanding the Army

FORT DRUM, N.Y. | The Pentagon's chief said Thursday he could send more U.S. troops to Afghanistan this year than he'd initially expected

ed and is considering increasing the number of soldiers in the Army.

Defense Secretary Robert Gates' comments came during a short visit to Fort Drum in upstate New York — an Army post that he said has deployed more soldiers to battle zones over the last 20 years than any other unit.

So far, the Obama administration has approved sending 68,000 troops to Afghanistan. The White House has wanted to wait until the end of the year before deciding whether to deploy more, but a defense official said Gates does not want to discourage his new commander, Gen. Stanley McChrystal, from taking a frank look at how many troops he needs. (AP)

Firefighter: Don't Divide by Race

Conn. man at center of Sotomayor ruling speaks out at hearing

WASHINGTON | Frank Ricci, the white firefighter who recently won his reverse discrimination case at the Supreme Court, said Thursday that an unfavorable ruling by Sonia Sotomayor and other judges "divides people who don't wish to be divided along racial lines."

Ricci and his firefighting colleague from New Haven, Conn., Lt. Ben Vargas denounced the appeals court ruling by Sotomayor and two other judges on the federal appeals court in New York. But in testimony to the Senate Judiciary Committee, neither man voiced opposition to Sotomayor's confirmation as a Supreme Court justice.

Ricci, Vargas and other firefighters sued New Haven after the city threw out the results of a promotion exam for lieutenants and captains after too few minorities did well on it.

A trial judge dismissed the lawsuit, a decision upheld by Sotomayor's appellate panel in a one-paragraph opinion that has been criticized as much for its brevity as for the result.

Late last month, the Supreme Court found in favor of the complaining firefighters in a 5-4 ruling that reversed the appeals court. Given the topic and the timing, the decision became a focus of Sotomayor's confirmation hearing.

Sotomayor testified repeatedly that she was bound by earlier rulings to reach the conclusion she did.

Ricci told the Senate plane that "achievement is neither limited nor determined by one's race, but by one's skills, dedication, commitment and character."

The court rulings against him reflected a flawed belief "that citizens should be reduced to racial statistics," he said. "It only divides people who don't wish to be divided along racial lines."

Moon Landing Tape Was Erased

NASA acknowledges mix-up as it compiles remaining footage

WASHINGTON | NASA could put a man on the moon but didn't have the sense to keep the original video of the live TV transmission.

In an embarrassing acknowledgment, the space agency said Thursday that it must have erased the Apollo 11 footage years ago so that it could reuse the videotape.

But now Hollywood is coming to the rescue.

The studio wizards who restored "Casablanca" are digitally sharpening and cleaning up the footage of the moon landing, making it even better than what TV viewers saw on July 20, 1969. They are doing it by working from four copies that NASA scrounged from around the world.

The first batch of restored footage was released just in time for the 40th anniversary of the "one giant leap for mankind."

Meanwhile, outside historians were aghast at the revelation that NASA erased the original tapes.

"It's surprising to me that NASA didn't have the common sense to save perhaps the most important historical footage of the 20th century," said Rice University historian Douglas Brinkley. "[It is] mind-boggling that the tapes just disappeared." SETH BORENSTEIN (AP)

Carnivorous Squid Invade Calif. Coast

Adventurous divers take to the waters to see the creatures

SAN DIEGO | Thousands of jumbo flying squid — aggressive 5-foot-long sea monsters with razor-sharp beaks and toothy tentacles — have invaded the shallow waters off San Diego, spooking scuba divers and washing up dead on tourist-packed beaches.

The carnivorous calamari, which can grow up to 100 pounds, came up from the depths last week, and swarms of them roughed up unsuspecting divers. Some divers report tentacles enveloping their masks and yanking at their cameras and gear.

Stories of too-close encounters with the cephalopods have chased many veteran divers out of the water and created a whirlwind of excitement among the rest, who are torn between their personal safety and the once-in-a-lifetime chance to swim with the deepsea giants.

The so-called Humboldt squid, which can grow up to 100 pounds, are native to the deep waters off Mexico, where they have been known to attack humans and are nicknamed “red devils” for their rust-red coloring and mean streak. Those who dive with them there chum the water with bait and sometimes get in a metal cage or wear chain mail to avoid being lashed by tentacles.

“I wouldn’t go into the water with them for the same reason I wouldn’t walk into a pride of lions on the Serengeti,” said Mike Bear, a local diver. GILLIAN FLACCUS (AP)

U.N. OKs New N. Korea Sanctions

Newest restrictions include travel bans, freeze on elites' assets

UNITED NATIONS | The U.N. imposed new sanctions Thursday against five North Korean officials, four companies and a state agency, and banned imports of two weapons-making materials, in a rare unified push by the world's powers to thwart Pyongyang's nuclear ambitions.

The sanctions, which take immediate effect and are to be carried out by all of the U.N.'s 192 member nations, include travel bans and a freeze on the financial assets against the officials, companies and state agency.

Nations also were instructed to refrain from supplying North Korea with certain types of graphite and para-aramid fiber — two of the materials used in ballistic missile parts.

"It is, of course, significant that we have also put individuals on the list, as this is the first time,"

INTENDED TARGETS

Some of the newest sanctions were approved against

- The General Bureau of Atomic Energy in Pyongyang.
- Three Pyongyang-based companies — Namchongang Trading Corp., Korea Hyoksin Trading Corp. and Korean Tangun Trading Corp.
- Two types of goods used in ballistic missile parts by North Korea: certain types of graphite and a para-aramid fiber. (AP) said Fazli Corman, Turkey's deputy U.N. ambassador, who chairs the panel.

U.S. Ambassador Susan Rice said the United States was pleased with the list, which required unanimous approval among the 15 nations that make up a sanctions panel of the U.N.'s powerhouse Security Council.

China, North Korea's biggest ally and trading partner, went along with most of the United States' recommendations.

Investigators have recovered the three black boxes belonging to a Russian-made jetliner that crashed in northwest Iran shortly after taking off from the capital, killing all 168 on board, authorities said Thursday. ## Stimulus Boosts China's Economy

BEIJING | China has bought a rebound in economic growth with a flood of government spending and bank loans, averting a surge in politically dangerous unemployment and fueling hopes that it might help lead a world recovery.

The government's announcement Thursday that second-quarter growth had grown by 7.9 percent from a year earlier boosted global financial markets, though Beijing cautioned that a full-fledged recovery is not firmly established.

The economy grew by 6.1 percent in the first quarter, according to the National Bureau of Statistics, and analysts said full-year growth should easily reach the government's 8 percent target.

The increase highlighted the economy's dependence on Beijing's $586 billion stimulus effort. (AP)

U.N. Official Is Fatally Shot at Pakistani Camp

PESHAWAR, PAKISTAN | A veteran U.N. official due to retire soon was fatally shot along with a guard while resisting kidnappers Thursday at a northwest Pakistan refugee camp, the latest indication of the peril facing humanitarian workers aiding those uprooted by army offensives against the Taliban.

No one immediately claimed responsibility for the attack at Kacha Garhi, on the outskirts of Peshawar, but observers said it was likely the work of a criminal gang and not Taliban militants.

The attack occurred around the time Adm. Mike Mullen, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, visited a nearby camp as part of a trip to meet with Pakistani officials. (AP)

Tehran Stokes Tensions With U.S.

Ahmadinejad shuns Clinton's call for talks; nuclear chief resigns

TEHRAN, IRAN | Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad railed against the U.S. in a speech Thursday, showing little indication of embracing Washington's offer of engagement, a day after Secretary of State Hillary Clinton said time was running out.

Mahmoud Ahmadinejad speaks to supporters in Mashhad, Iran, on Thursday.

Tension between the two countries has increased after Ahmadinejad's disputed re-election victory last month. The controversy over the election seemed to claim its latest victim Thursday as the government announced the head of Iran's nuclear agency has resigned.

Officials gave no reason for Gholam Reza Aghazadeh's resignation, but he has long been close to opposition leader Mir Hossein Mousavi, who claims to be the victor in the June 12 presidential election and says Ahmadinejad's government is illegitimate.

Iranian Foreign Minister Man-

ouchehr Mottaki, speaking on the sidelines of a summit in Egypt, said he did not believe Aghazadeh's departure would change Iran's nuclear policy.

President Obama has offered to engage Iran in dialogue with the hope of reducing tension over the country's nuclear program, which the West fears is aimed at developing a nuclear weapon but Tehran maintains is peaceful.

But the Iranian government has accused the U.S. and other Western countries of inciting the massive street protests that followed the election. NASSER KARIMI (AP)

India, Pakistan Pledge Joint Fight vs. Terror

In Egypt, two leaders vow to bring Mumbai attackers to justice

SHARM EL-SHEIK, EGYPT | Pakistan promised India on Thursday that it will do "everything in its power" to bring the Mumbai terror attackers to justice, a key demand by New Delhi to improve relations.

The prime ministers of the two nuclear powers also agreed that action on terrorism should not be linked to their dialogue, the joint statement said, something that Islamabad has asked for.

Subsequent comments from the Indian prime minister, though, threw doubt on whether those talks would resume anytime soon.

Indian Prime Minister Manmohan Singh and his Pakistani counterpart, Yousuf Raza Gilani, met on the sidelines of the Non-Aligned Summit in Sharm el-Sheik, after a freeze in their peace talks after an attack by alleged Pakistani gunmen on Mumbai that killed 166.

"Prime Minister Singh reiterated the need to bring the perpetrators of the Mumbai attacks to justice. Prime Minister Gilani assured that Pakistan will do everything in their power in this regard," the statement said.

The leaders also agreed to "share real time, credible and actionable information on any future terrorist threat." SARAH EL DEEB (AP)

JPMorgan Chase & Co. reported a 36 percent jump in second-quarter profits Thursday, easily surpassing analysts' forecasts as huge gains in its investment banking business outweighed higher losses from bad loans.

The results came two days after rival Goldman Sachs Group Inc. also posted surprisingly good results, solidifying the companies' position as the strongest players in the industry. Many other banks are still struggling to emerge from the worst of a credit crisis that peaked last fall as well as a recession that has sent loan defaults higher.

"Both JPMorgan and Goldman Sachs were well positioned going into the crisis, and they are going to continue to pull ahead and dominate the sector," said Len Blum, managing partner at investment bank Westwood Capital.

JPMorgan and Goldman are among the 10 major banks that federal regulators deemed healthy enough last month to repay billions in bailout funds, freeing them from tighter government oversight and caps on pay that the industry had chafed at. Two major banks that haven't yet exited the rescue program, Bank of America Corp. and Citigroup Inc., report their earnings on Friday.

JPMorgan earned $2.72 billion for the April-June period, up from $2 billion a year ago. Investment banking profits more than tripled to $1.5 billion on higher underwriting fees and gains in its bonds business, though some analysts said that was an unusual bump and unlikely to be sustained.

Like Goldman Sachs, JPMorgan is also seeing its investment banking business benefit from a smaller playing field. JPMorgan bought Bear Stearns Cos. at a fire sale price last year when the firm was on the brink of collapse, and Lehman Brothers later declared bankruptcy. IEVA M. AUGSTUMS (AP)

'No One Was Tougher Than I Was'

Paulson defends his role in bank bailout during Hill testimony

WASHINGTON | Lawmakers accused former Treasury secretary Henry Paulson on Thursday of bending to the demands of a major bank and keeping negotiations of a hefty bailout secret in his rush to stabilize financial markets last year.

Paulson, testifying for the first time since leaving office in January after putting in place a $700 billion bank bailout program, was defiant in his response and admitted no wrongdoing.

"No one was tougher than I was in trying to protect the American taxpayer," he told the House Oversight and Government Reform Committee.

Lawmakers are frustrated that despite hefty infusions of cash into the nation's largest banks, unemployment and home foreclosures are on the rise.

Paulson had been called to testify because of his role last year in Bank of America Corp.'s merger with Merrill Lynch & Co. Paulson acknowledged in his testimony that he pressured Bank of America CEO Kenneth Lewis to proceed with the deal despite Merrill's mounting financial losses.

Paulson said he warned Lewis that Lewis might lose his job if he dropped the deal or tried to renegotiate because doing so would exhibit a "colossal lack of judgment."

At one point during the discussions, Paulson pledged government aid to help Bank of America absorb some of the losses from acquiring Merrill.

Paulson said he never told Lewis to hide potential losses from shareholders but kept discussions private to prevent fluctuations in the market.

"We didn't want to overly scare people and make it worse," he said.

Foreclosure Trend Isn't Easing Up

More than 1.5 million households affected in first half of 2009

WASHINGTON | The number of U.S. households on the verge of losing their homes soared by nearly 15 percent in the first half of the year as more people lost their jobs and were unable to pay their monthly mortgage bills.

The mushrooming foreclosure crisis affected more than 1.5 million homes in the first six months of the year, according to a report released Thursday by foreclosure listing service RealtyTrac Inc.

The data show that, despite the Obama administration's plan to encourage the lending industry to prevent foreclosures by handing out $50 billion in subsidies, the nation's housing woes continue to spread.

Experts don't expect foreclosures to peak until the middle of next year. ALAN ZIBEL (AP)

Camp Survives Loss of Its Leader

Self-esteem program for girls continues after founder's death

Debra Soltis wasn't supposed to run this summer's GirlsUp camp. But last month, Kelly Murray, the founder of the annual weeklong effort to boost girls' self-esteem and confidence, was killed by a tree that fell on her minivan as she drove along Connecticut Avenue in Chevy Chase. Soltis, a lawyer and close friend of Murray's, felt compelled to jump in and continue her friend's legacy.

She launched this week's camp with Polonius' advice to Laertes in Shakespeare's "Hamlet": "To thine own self be true."

A few of the girls recognized the phrase, but they knew it from the movie "Clueless."

The girls got into a debate about body image. How do the

MARCUS YAM/TWP

Debra Soltis, right, took over GirlsUp, a self-esteem camp for girls, this summer after its founder, Kelly Murray, was killed when a tree fell on her car June 26.

15 tweens see themselves? How should they? What makes each of them unique?

Working from Murray's meticulous outlines and with help from Murray's friends and relatives, Soltis got GirlsUp going again.

"Really, ultimately, what I'm trying to do in here is make her proud," Soltis, 43, said between sessions of the camp at Chevy Chase Elementary School.

DEBRA SOLTIS, WHO TOOK OVER GIRLSUP SUMMER CAMP FOR MURRAY

Everyone would have understood if the camp had been canceled. But Sean Murray, the 40-year-old widower left to raise their five surviving young girls — another daughter, Sloane, 7, also died in the accident — really wanted GirlsUp to continue for a second year. "Keeping the camp will serve as a remembrance of sorts of what Kelly believed and how she lived her life," he said.

By Jove, Watson

59-year-old legend turns back the clock at the British Open

GOLF | These kind of things usually don't end well, no matter how much we might want them to. Golf is a tough enough game for even the youngsters playing in this British Open, and 59-year-olds have no business getting in the way — no matter what their pedigree might be.

“I feel inspired playing here. It doesn’t feel a whole lot out of the ordinary from 32 years ago.”

But then Tom Watson starts talking about feeling something spiritual out on the links, and you start wondering. He calls the golf course “she,” like Turnberry is an eccentric old aunt, and says he feels a serenity when he is with her.

Tom Watson rekindled memories of the 1977 “Duel in the Sun” with an opening-round score of 65 on Thursday at the British Open.

On Thursday, he went out underneath a retro argyle sweater with a 16-year-old as one of his playing partners and shot a 5-under 65 that was as remarkable as it was improbable. It matched the score he posted in the final round on the same course in 1977 to beat Jack Nicklaus by a shot and win the claret jug trophy in what would live as the “Duel in the Sun.”

The ease with which it came made a lot of his fans — and there are many in Britain, where his success has been great — want to believe. But win a sixth just nine months after undergoing hip surgery? Against a field that includes Tiger Woods and a host of 20-somethings who hit the ball long and far? Not likely. Not at an age when nerves fray quicker and muscles ache longer.

So, how about it, Old Tom Watson? What if somehow, some way, it came true? “It would be amazing,” Watson said.

Indeed, the whole thing is way too crazy, something Watson seems to know but won’t just come out and say. Not when the competitive juices are flowing and the game that can sometimes be so humiliating is fun again, at least for a day.

“I feel inspired playing here,” Watson said. “It doesn’t feel a whole lot out of the ordinary from 32 years ago except that I don’t have the confidence in my putting as I had 32 years ago. But, again, a few of them might go in.” TIM DAHLBERG (AP)

IN THE HUNT | SOME NOTABLE ROUNDS FROM TURNBERRY

TIGER WOODS

Woods had never played Turnberry before, and it showed. He finished 1-over.

PADRAIG HARRINGTON

The winner of the last two Opens has been tinkering with his swing and is 1-under.

ANGEL JIMINEZ

A former caddie, “The Mechanic” sank a 45-foot putt to finish in the lead at minus-6.

BEN CURTIS

Curtis, who finished in the top 10 in the past two Opens, is in second at 5-under par.

JOHN DALY

The 1995 British Open champion is, surprisingly, back in the hunt at 2-under.

FOOTBALL It Worked for Doug Flutie Graham Harrell is headed to the CFL. The record-setting Texas Tech quarterback signed with the Saskatchewan Roughriders on Thursday. Harrell is the NCAA Division I career leader in touchdown passes but wasn’t drafted by the NFL. His workout with the Cleveland Browns did not result in a contract. Harrell had to fight the perception that his numbers were the product of Texas Tech’s offensive system and that he didn’t have the arm strength to succeed in the NFL. (AP)

D.C. claims former Olympian Szetela in allocation process

UNITED | D.C. United bolstered itself ahead of what promises to be a very tight playoff race, as well as the upcoming CONCACAF Champions League, by signing former U.S. Olympian Danny Szetela on Thursday.

Szetela, a 22-year-old midfielder and junior national team regular, appeared to have a promising future after leaving the Columbus Crew two years ago for Spain's Racing Santander. He played sparingly, however, and was loaned to Brescia of Italy six months later. Szetela had better luck in the Italian second division but became available when Racing opted not to renew his contract this summer.

United claimed him through MLS' allocation process, which grants its teams access to high-profile players based on past performance. D.C. was second in line and jumped at the chance for a young, versatile player with potential.

"He's got a boatload of experience, and we certainly hope that his experience in Europe will help him now," United GM Dave Kasper said. "Danny can play a number clears, he could play in the July 21 U.S. Open Cup semifinal against second-division Rochester.

Szetela will not be available for Saturday's home game against Colorado, but if his paperwork

The transfer window, during which D.C. can sign new players, remains open until mid-August, and United has the roster space for

Denmark's Sorensen wins the 12th stage, Nocentini keeps lead

CYCLING | Lance Armstrong remained in third place at the Tour de France on Thursday, scrambling back to the main pack after a punctured tire with about 37 miles left.

Teammate and rival Alberto Contador of Spain stayed in second place, and Rinaldo Nocentini of Italy kept the yellow jersey on Sorensen broke away and finished 48 seconds ahead of Laurent Lefevre of France. The 34-year-old Dane spent years as a support rider on Bjarne Riis' team, and this was his first win of a Tour stage.

Soriano's production has declined since leaving the Nationals

NATIONALS | Washington Nationals then-General Manager Jim Bowden's greatest move after trading for Alfonso Soriano in 2006 may have been letting him leave.

"I worry," Soriano, who is hitting just .233 this season, told MLB.com on July 11, "but I try not to think too much, because the hitting coach says that happens to every player. I'm not happy about it, but [knowing that] makes me feel better."

Much has changed for Soriano

In 2006, Alfonso Soriano hit 40 homers and stole 40 bases with the Nationals. But since then, he has struggled with the Cubs. He is hitting just .233 this season.

An Act of Brotherly Love

D.C. gridiron stars return home to show hard work pays off

FOOTBALL | When he was in high school, the older brother would wake up the younger brother at 2 a.m. They would walk from their home in Northwest D.C. to the local park, where they would make up football drills, run around the track and sprint up flights of stairs.

Now Vernon Davis and his younger brother, Vontae, are in the NFL. They'll be passing down drills and lessons to football players ages 8 to 18 at the free All Star Youth Football Camp at Dunbar High School on Saturday morning.

"We wanted to give young kids the drive and passion to work hard and to see that there are guys who came before them out of the same environment that have been successful later on," said Vontae Davis. "Really, just to be role models."

Vernon Davis was the first to star at Dunbar High School. He was then drafted out of the University of no since 2006, but not much has changed for his old ballclub. That year, the Nationals finished 71-91 and — like this year — were last in the division. But Soriano became the fourth player ever to steal 40 bases and hit 40 homers in the same season and kept Washington fans excited about baseball.

It also got other general managers to salivate over Soriano. After his only season in Washington, Soriano signed an eight-year, $136 million deal with Chicago.

As compensation for not re-signing Soriano, Washington received the 31st and 67th picks in the 2007 draft. While Josh Smoker, the team's earlier pick, has struggled this year in Single A with an 11.50 ERA, Jordan Zimmermann, the team's latter pick, has cemented a spot in the Nationals' starting rotation for years to come.

That may make up for the loss of Soriano, who has been sidelined multiple times due to injuries and is averaging 16 fewer home runs and 23 fewer stolen bases with the Cubs than he did with the Nationals.

"I've been working hard to not get hurt this year," Soriano told MLB.com. "I'm not hurt physically, but I'm hurt mentally because I'm not hitting well." JOE BUBAR brother's footsteps through high school. After attending the University of Illinois, the cornerback was drafted 25th overall by the Miami Dolphins in this year's draft, making them the third pair of brothers to both be first-round picks.

They hope to pass on the valuable lessons they learned growing up, like the one Vernon Davis taught his brother about how sometimes hard work can't wait until the sun rises.

"I did it because I cared," said Vernon Davis about the early morning workouts. "I wanted to see him succeed, and I wanted to see him follow in my footsteps."

Time for Talking Is Now for Nats

WITH ONE MONTH, to the day, to sign Stephen Strasburg, you would think the Washington Nationals would be knee-deep in negotiations with their top draft pick.

You'd be wrong.

This week, The Washington Post's Thomas Boswell reported that the Nationals have yet to contact Strasburg about a contract offer. Washington, it seems, has been busy firing a manager and crafting a public apology to its fans after an abysmal first half.

I wonder if there's a draft for a new letter explaining why the team couldn't come to terms with Strasburg. Maybe the Nats figure that since they'll get the No. 1 pick again next year, no one will notice if a top prospect slips through their fingers.

Of course, that's exactly what happened last year when Aaron Crow didn't sign. Going 0-for-2 shouldn't sound too appealing. Then again, maybe neither does paying Strasburg a record amount.

The bickering about high salary demands ended as soon as the Nats took Strasburg. They knew agent Scott Boras would demand a ridiculous salary, and by taking the pitcher, Washington committed to its fan base that it would sign him.

If the Lerners don't have the stomach to confront Boras, they should get out of the business. Failure is not an option.

Genevieve Gorder

'HGTV DESIGN STAR' JUDGE, SHOE LOVER

In the rooms she decks out for house porn shows such as "Trading Spaces" and "Dear Genevieve" (Sat., 8:30 p.m., HGTV), designer Genevieve Gorder revels in saturated colors and Zen-inspired furniture. In her new gig as an "HGTV Design Star" judge, she'll be weighing in on the efforts of fledgling decorators as Season 4 premieres Sunday (10 p.m., HGTV).

Would you want to be a contestant on the show?

No way! Being critiqued in front of millions of people is tough. Even if you've gone to design school, it's hard to understand doing it on TV. There's a new set of rules.

So, something that'd look great at my house won't fly on screen?

Yes. You have to be careful designing for TV. You have to have a great balance of color and scale.

What does being on a show like this teach designers?

A lot of it is learning the art of compromise. Being on "Design Star" helps them realize that interior design is both about creating something beautiful and appealing clients.

What's the next big decor trend?

Moorish and Islamic patterns. And colors are becoming more saturated — lots of pinks and purples.

Is there any look that's overstayed its welcome?

I see that blue and brown combo over and over again. People are afraid of doing something new.

Why won't people won't take chances when they decorate?

I don't know. You can repaint or take something back. You need to make your space personal, something that reflects who you are, not just what you see on Page 35 in the Pottery Barn catalog.

"I see that blue and brown combo over and over again. People are afraid of doing something new."

Besides painting walls, what's another way to make a big impact for very little money?

One of my tricks is powder coating. It's paint that's baked on with heat. It's usually used for patio furniture, but it'll also work on interior pieces, say, a bed frame or armoire. It's really affordable and gives you a perfect finish.

What's your own place like?

I live in the top two floors of a brownstone in Chelsea. We gutted the whole thing, then restored it with an old fireplace and door knobs salvaged from New York public schools. It's little pauses like that in a home that give it soul.

Do you throw cool parties there?

I try to think of all five senses when I entertain. I'll figure out a play list, maybe some samba, and have beautiful flowers. And lighting is crucial. It needs to be dim, amber candlelight. That's what makes people look most beautiful.

You're known for decorating barefoot. Doesn't that lead to injuries?

That was in my "Trading Spaces" days. I did it because I didn't want to ruin my shoes every week. But I don't do that anymore. That's good, because I like shoes — Louboutins, Havaianas. They're beautiful accessories, like a throw or a sculpture. JENNIFER BARGER (EXPRESS)

ANSWERS FROM THE SHOE BLOGGER

The weather has been rainy, the economy is getting worse, I'm worried about my job, and my boyfriend refuses to get serious. I've got the summertime blues. Help! — JENNIFER

■ Manolo says, sadly, as every rockabilly knows, "There ain't no cure for the summertime blues." Happily, your disease can be managed until fall, at which point you may segue into the Autumnal Doldrums to be later replaced by the Holiday Downers. Until that time, the best possible palliative care can be achieved through the frequent application of seasonally appropriate shoes. "But," you may ask, "are there side effects, about which I must worry, Dr. Manolo?" Yes. As with all medical treatments, seasonal wardrobe adjustment therapy brings the risk of side effects, although, if proper dosages are maintained, they are minor and are limited to the lightening of the wallet and constriction in the closet. DIGGING THROUGH crowded racks and somewhat dusty dresses provides some of the thrill of the hunt for vintage clothing hounds. But the District's newest rehash house, Treasury (1843 14th St. NW; 202-506-6908), looks more like a tony boutique with its industrial-sleek fixtures, exposed brick walls and well-edited, pristine stock of past-era clothing and accessories. Finds for babes and blokes range from Grace Kelly-ish flower-print pumps (shown, $62) and 1970s men's aviator shades ($35) to a stash of summery frocks from the "Mad Men" era.

Pop Collars And Colors

PREP-COOL DESIGNER Robert Redd hails from Charlottesville, Va., where dudes with genteel Southern accents are likely to both play in local punk bands and be named Trip. That explains the edgy appeal of Redd's striped summer polos ($83 each, Sherman Pickey, 1647 Wisconsin Ave. NW; 202-333-4212), which come in too-rad-for-Grandad color combos such as lemon yellow and cobalt. Paired with a slim pair of shorts (please, not with whales on them), they smack of the H Street Country Club, not the Augusta National Golf Club.

Breakout Breakthrough

ONE RECENT WEEKEND, a big pimple popped up front and center on our chin, sparking a feeling akin to that traumatic sixth-grade dance when the stress of deciding whether to wear peg-leg jeans or a Benetton rugby shirt prompted an epic acne attack. This time, instead of nine layers of cakey cover-up, we dabbed on Lush's Grease Lightning ($10, Lush, 3066 M St. NW; 202-333-6950), a zit zapper of witch hazel, tea tree oil and aloe vera. Unlike our NKOTB obsession, the red spot was gone in no time.

All the Write Stuff

WE LOVE CAPPING OFF a Manhattan trip with a stop at Fisht Eddy, the kitchenware emporium jam-packed with whimsical, colorful table settings. A selection of the company's clever cups, bowls and children's dishes just arrived at Red Barn Mercantile (113 S. Columbus St., Alexandria; 703-838-0355). Our faves: a Little Red Riding Hood juice glass and the memo mug (shown, $13), reminiscent of grade-school spelling tests. It's worthy of a gold star, for sure.

Heat on the Run

RUST COATS THE BARBECUES in Rock Creek Park, and lugging your Weber on the Metro when you head out to a softball game doesn't seem very practical. Enter the EZ Grille ($20, Ezgrill.com), a take-it-with-you heat source about the size of a laptop. The lightweight thing comes across like a tin lasagna pan stuffed with briquettes. When ignited, it produces steady, if not scorching, warmth fit for burgers, s'mores or tofu dogs.

How to rock (not ruin) your look with new pants shapes, from dressy shorts and pleated trousers to harem styles

For the past few years, pants and shorts have played a mere supporting role in fashion. Like those character actors who are killed off quickly on "Lost" or "Grey's Anatomy," slim jeans and flared trousers partnered with flashier stars — voluminous blouses, showy tees. But now, designers have recast trousers, pants and shorts with new shapes (harem, peg leg) and design elements (dropped crotches, the return of pleats), putting the spotlight below the waist. At first, these retro, 1980s-meet-1950s styles can seem tricky to wear and a little costume-y. "You need to mix them with current styles," says Reid Ethier of Georgetown's Hu's Wear. This means silky harem pants are tamed by a fitted blazer and high-waisted, Katharine Hepburn-ish trousers are cinched with a wide belt. "Give different silhouettes a try," Ethier says. "When you tell yourself, 'I can't wear this or that,' you might miss out on something that suits you perfectly." Or at least a piece that's far more forgiving of your summer ice-cream cone belly than those skin-tight skinnies. ASHLEY JOY PARKER

'(500) Days' puts a fresh, quirky spin on the standard movie plot of boy meets girl

FILM | Boy meets girl, boy loses girl, boy tries to win girl back: It's a tale you've heard a million times before. But it's told in such a relatable, inventive way in "(500) Days of Summer," it almost feels like the first time.

It is the first time for director Marc Webb, who puts his music video and commercial background to good use with stylish tactics that are lively — a cheeky dance sequence, perfect song choices, a clever use of split screen — but never feel gratuitous.

'(500) DAYS OF SUMMER'

- DIRECTOR: Marc Webb
- STARS: Zooey Deschanel, Joseph Gordon-Levitt
- IN A NUTSHELL: Boy meets girl. Boy loves girl. Girl loves boy, until she remembers she doesn't want a serious relationship.
- FOR FANS OF: "Say Anything"

And the script from Scott Neustadter and Michael H. Weber keeps things moving by jumping back and forth in time between Day 500, Day 1 and everywhere in between; the structure also creates a feeling of curiosity throughout, because we know this relationship is doomed; we just don't know how it falls apart.

We watch it all unfold with bemusement and dread through the lovelorn eyes of Joseph Gordon-Levitt's Tom Hansen, a would-be architect toiling away at a greeting card company.

Tom thinks he's found the

Feels Like the First Time

TRUE ROMANCE: Joseph Gordon-Levitt and Zooey Deschanel share an intimate moment in "(500) Days of Summer."

perfect woman in Summer Finn (Zooey Deschanel), his boss' beautiful new assistant who's just arrived in Los Angeles. One look at those big, blue eyes and he's instantly smitten; this is the lovely Deschanel, after all, so who could blame him? Her alluring, mysterious presence is just the right fit here.

"(500) Days of Summer" allows Tom to regale us with memories of this life-altering romance — and because they're his memories, told entirely from his perspective, they're more than a little romanticized in both the highs and lows. But that's part of the film's charm: the spot-on observation that everything seems magnified when it's happening to us.

Why she turns suddenly cold is baffling to him, and to us; she told him at the start that she didn't want anything serious, but it all seemed to be going so well. Then again, she's meant to be an elusive concept. Like the season she's named for, she clearly can't stick around forever.

Through every moment of jubilation and anxiety, Gordon-Levitt makes us feel for him; he's still so appealing even when he's miserable, you almost don't want to see him succeed. You could imagine John Cusack playing this role 20 years ago: Gordon-Levitt has a similar everyman likability and determination, but he's just as adept at showing a deeper, more vulnerable side. Unlike the whirlwind romance of "(500) Days of Summer," this is a career that's clearly made to last.

Leaders of the Emmy Pack

'30 Rock' scores 22 nominations while 'Mad Men' comes in second place with 16

NODS | Tina Fey's satire-rich sitcom "30 Rock" received a leading 22 Emmy Award nominations Thursday, while the '60s retro series "Mad Men" led the drama pack with 16 bids.

The shows were honored last year as best comedy and drama, respectively, and have a chance to repeat the performance at September's awards.

The TV movies "Grey Gardens," with 17 nominations, and "Into the Storm," with 14 nods, were among the front-runners. Chandra Wilson of "Grey's Anatomy" and Jim Parsons of "The Big Bang Theory" helped make the announcement at the TV academy's theater — and both proved to be among the lucky.

The number of contenders in series and acting categories were expanded this year, which may have allowed room for some unexpected bids, including a rare best-comedy series nomination for an animated series, "Family Guy."

The series fields are especially crowded, with seven contenders in both drama and comedy categories. Joining "Mad Men" are fellow cable dramas "Big Love," "Breaking Bad," "Damages" and "Dexter." Two network dramas, "House" and "Lost," also made the cut.

Last year's winner for best comedy, "30 Rock," has the most nominations this year.

Among the comedies, the nominees besides "30 Rock" and "Family Guy" include other network series "How I Met Your Mother" and "The Office." Cable contenders include "Entourage," "Flight of the Conchords" and "Weeds."

The series fields are crowded, with seven contenders in both drama and comedy categories.

Affection was scarce for series that came to an end last season, including the medical drama "ER," "Boston Legal" and "Battlestar Galactica." There was a scattering of nominations among them, but nothing in the marquee categories of acting or best series. Another just-ended series, "The Shield," was shut out. LYNN ELBER (AP)

AWAY WE GO (R, 98 minutes) As the movie opens, Burt (John Krasinski) and Verona (Maya Rudolph) find out that Verona is pregnant. When they go to tell Burt's parents (Catherine O'Hara and Jeff Daniels), they discover that the expectant grandparents plan to move to Europe before the baby is born. That development sends Burt and Verona on a journey to find a new definition of themselves as an expanded family unit. Written by Dave Eggers and Vendela Vida, and directed by Sam Mendes, the film, at least at first blush, feels like a welcome respite from the false happily-ever-afters of most mainstream movies. (AH)

BRÜNO (R, 88 minutes) The latest mock-documentary satiric ritual from comic provocateur Sacha Baron Cohen may count as the summer's biggest misfire. Taken from Cohen's TV program "Da Ali G Show," Bruno is a gay, Austrian host of a fashion show. As the film opens, he makes a mess of a runway and is "schwartzlisted" from the industry. He attempts a comeback by going to Hollywood and, eventually, the Middle East and American South. Whether it's a painful episode involving Bruno's trying to trap presidential candidate Ron Paul into making a sex tape or trying to broker Arab-Israeli peace or his encounters with gay "converters" in Alabama, the skits here don't add up to anything substantive. Cohen's targets are too easy, and with stakes this low, his raunchy, puerile stunts are just that, nothing more. (AH)

CHERI (R, 100 minutes) A radiant Michelle

Pfeiffer is Lea, a courtesan well schooled in pleasure and the politics of the personal, who is approaching that point where she will age out of her profession (any parallels to Hollywood are no doubt intentional). With Kathy Bates, playing Lea's friend and colleague Madame Peloux, Pfeiffer wends her way through screenwriter Christopher Hampton's insouciant banter with decadent assurance and an eye on the clock, which may be why Lea adopts as her project, and her lover, Cheri (Rupert Friend), Madame Peloux's son and a candidate for early debauchery. What begins as a lark turns into love. And what began as a frothy period piece becomes a meditation on age, passion and the tyranny of the typical. Yet, the movie bogs down by going nowhere other than inside its characters, who are intensely passionate but of an era more curious than emotionally relevant. (JA)

FOOD, INC. (PG, 94 minutes) This absorbing look behind the curtain of the cynical and often sickening workings of the modern industrial food system does a superb job of making its case that our current food ways are drastically out of whack. Starting with the chicken and beef industries, the filmmakers trace how fast-food culture created the corporate concentration of agricultural production and the disappearance of the traditional family farm. With damning hidden-camera footage and interviews with such pioneering journalists as Eric Schlosser and Michael Pollan, the film deftly demonstrates how issues such as illegal immigration, public health and intellectual property law intersect at the largely hidden nexus of Big Meat. See the film after dinner, but see it. (AH)

THE HANGOVER (R, 99 minutes) Two days before his wedding, Doug (Justin Bartha) and three guy friends (Bradley Cooper, Ed Helms, Zach Galifianakis) decide to enjoy one last hurrah in Las Vegas before Doug ties the knot. But almost as soon as they embark on that good night, all becomes oblivion. They don't remember a thing. Who was the stripper leaving their hotel room early in the morning? How did that tiger end up in their bathroom? And what the heck happened to their missing friend Doug? Their only way out of this nightmare is to return from the proverbial fire back to the frying pan: the noble institution of marriage. That's what you call a real punch line. (DT)

THE HURT LOCKER (R, 130 minutes) Kathryn Bigelow's captivating, completely immersive action thriller is set in Iraq in 2004, but it transcends time and place, and in the process attains something universal and enduring. Viewers are plunged into the disorienting world of the soldiers who disarm what Americans have come to know as IEDs, or roadside bombs, neither of which term does full justice to the carnage they inflict. The men leading the audience through those tense, tautly orchestrated encounters are the soldiers of Bravo Company. Spc. Owen

Eldridge (Brian Geraghty) is the bespec- taled nice guy. Anthony Mackie plays Sgt. J.T. Sanborn, possessed of the somber, watchful demeanor of a professional quietly observing protocol. The group's leader is Staff Sgt. William James, an adrenaline junkie and alpha dog played in an astonishing breakout performance by Jeremy Renner. (AH)

ICE AGE: DAWN OF THE DINOSAURS (PG, 87 minutes) I like Scrat. You like Scrat. But no one likes the saber-toothed cartoon squirrel who made only brief appearances in both of the first two "Ice Age" films enough to want to watch a whole movie about him. Nevertheless, there he is, popping up every few minutes in the third and barely-more-than-middling-funny installment in the series of animated features about the prehistoric adventures of Manny (voice of Ray Romano), Diego (Denis Leary) and Sid (John Leguizamo), a woolly mammoth, saber-toothed tiger and ground sloth stuck in a snow-bound world. Simon Pegg makes a nice acerbic addition to the cast as Buck, a one-eyed weasel who carries a sharpened dino tooth for a dagger and acts as a guide when our heroes discover a tropical world of dinosaurs under all that ice. But the movie feels manufactured, a product not of evolution — or even intelligent design — but of cynical, soulless opportunism. (MO)

entertainment lookout

T. Carpenter) for a post-grad soiree. The boys' night of raucous adventuring kicks off when Beth and her two girlfriends show up, with Beth's truly terrifying boyfriend in hot, homicidal pursuit. It's teen-movie business as usual: Girls are never intentionally funny, and the boy will get the hottie if he can (respectfully) convince her that she shouldn't sleep with people who don't respect her. Perhaps the best thing that can be said about this film is that the title is correctly punctuated. RUTH MCCANN

IMAGINE THAT (PG, 107 minutes) The film, in which Eddie Murphy plays a careerist investment banker redeemed by fatherhood and fantasy, is a redemptive act for Murphy. Little Yara Shahidi is beautiful and natural as Murphy's daughter, Olivia; Thomas Haden Church is inspired as an inspired character, Johnny Whitefeather, a faux mystic who parlays American Indian spirituality into snake-oil salesmanship. As he struggles to maintain clients, Murphy's Evan Danielson discovers a quick path to happiness: In his daughter's fantasy world there are princesses who can make winning stock predictions. Audiences will make do with a movie that takes a major step toward reasserting Murphy's place as the comic heir not just to Richard Pryor, but to Groucho Marx. The return of Eddie Murphy? Imagine that. (JA)

MOON (R, 97 minutes) The future, as depicted here, is familiar. Televisions are turned on and off by clapping. Sentient computers use emoticons to convey feeling. And big corporations cut corners at the expense of their employees. This is the reality of Sam Bell, an employee of Lunar Industries Ltd., which has stationed him on the moon to oversee the mining of clean energy from moon rocks. He has been there for three years, beaming power back to Earth. There are only two weeks before Sam's contract is up.

Only two weeks before he gets to see his wife and child. Then he finds something on the surface of the moon that throws everything into doubt — including, tragically, the film's logic. "Moon," a moody sci-fi morsel, has the right look, the right sound and the right feel. Actor Sam Rockwell, as Sam, has the aw-shucks charisma to carry a movie on his own. But storywise, "Moon" fails to live up to the promise of its premise. DAN ZAK

MY SISTER'S KEEPER (PG-13, 109 minutes) The much-anticipated adaptation of the novel by cult favorite Jodi Picoult has to do with emancipation, a theme that the movie itself unwittingly plays into. At least two perfectly good movies fight to break free within this busy, oddly shaped weepie: one a peppery, provocative legal thriller, the other a mother-daughter melo-drama worthy of Joan Crawford and Lana Turner at their most Gothically self-sacrificial.

ficing. If "My Sister's Keeper" has a central character, it would be Anna (Abigail Breslin), an 11-year-old girl who was conceived by her parents, Sara and Brian (Cameron Diaz and Jason Patric), in order to harvest umbilical cord blood, bone marrow and various organs for their daughter Kate (Sofia Vassilieva), who suffers from acute promyelocytic leukemia. Even though "My Sister's Keeper" is nominally Anna's story, the real center of the action is Sara, played by Diaz with a spiky, care-worn absence of vanity. Perhaps a moment of silence is in order to recognize the fact that one of Hollywood's most delectable pop tarts is now playing the mother of teenagers. (AH)

THE PROPOSAL (PG-13, 104 minutes) A tightly wound dominatrix of a boss (Sandra Bullock), dressed in cinch-waisted suits and Louboutin peep-toes that could put an eye out at 50 paces, dragoons her long-suffering male secretary (Ryan Reynolds) into marrying her so her U.S. visa won't expire (she's Canadian). It's as predictable and comforting as a Happy Meal, but it must be said that the film manages to elicit some genuinely amusing moments, especially when it comes to physical comedy. Reynolds and Bullock don't generate much chemistry, but both can be thanked for bringing restraint to otherwise thankless roles; tireless trouper Betty White is underused as Reynolds' kittenish grandmother. Otherwise, it's cute, generic and instantly forgettable. (AH)

PUBLIC ENEMIES (R, 140 minutes) John Dillinger was an ugly, ruthless son of a gun, so naturally, Johnny Depp plays him as a quiet, shifty rogue who robs banks with scissorhands instead of submachine guns. The FBI strikes back at Dillinger and his peers. Leading the manhunt is a rigid agent named Melvin Purvis, played by Christian Bale with an introversion even more pathological than Bruce Wayne's.

Depp's Dillinger and Bale's Purvis are neither charming nor despicable, nor do they occupy that delicious gray area between the two. The movie's faint pulse comes from French actress Marion Cotillard ("La Vie en Rose"), who plays Dillinger's girlfriend, Billie Frechette. If the fire in Cotillard's eyes had been matched by Depp and Bale throughout, the film might've really popped. Instead, for two hours and 20 minutes, it simply goes click, click, click. (pz)

THE TAKING OF PELHAM 1 2 3 (R, 106 minutes) Director Tony Scott's remake of the gritty and darkly comic 1974 film starring Walter Matthau is about the controlled chaos of a city that barely works. As the lead hijacker of a subway train that left the Pelham station at 1:23 p.m., John Travolta is in high manic mode, seething and unpredictable, violent and charismatic. The best moments of the film are his conversations with Denzel Washington, who plays the Matthau role, as disgraced subway official Walter Garber, who is accidentally thrust into a leading role. (PK)

TRANSFORMERS: REVENGE OF THE FALLEN (PG-13, 150 minutes) Director Michael Bay's film is simply despicable. So complaining about one's physical discomfort seems petty. But given the relentless din, the Leni Riefenstahl-inspired music and the headache-inducing visuals, OSHA should probably be investigating the conditions under which humans made this thing. Or the conditions under which they watch it. And this is from someone who liked "Transformers." Sure, it was a clanking, clanging, rock-'em, sock-'em robot slugfest, but with a human element that was surprisingly real. Shia LaBeouf held his own alongside his 14-story co-stars. "Trans 2" is the studio version of a genetically modified, growth-hormone-enhanced chicken. Consume at your own risk. (JA)

UP (PG, 98 minutes) Pixar has done it again. The company's first foray into 3-D animation is a soaring, touching, funny and altogether buoyant movie that lives up to its title in spirit and in form. Ed Asner provides the voice behind Carl Fredricksen, a boxily built curmudgeon who decides to fly his house to South America by way of a bunch of balloons. Newcomer Jordan Nagai voices the young Wilderness Explorer Russell, who comes along for the ride, to Carl's initial consternation and eventual comfort. Among "Up's" myriad pleasures is watching this intergenerational friendship bloom, at a time when pop culture seems to be dominated by snarky tween-centric sensibilities. (AH)

WHATEVER WORKS (PG-13, 92 minutes) This toxic, contemptuous, unforgivably unfunny bagatelle finds Woody Allen at his most misanthropically one-note. Larry David plays Allen's alter ego as a grumpy, growling Boris Yelkinoff, a self-described genius who has been living on Manhattan's Lower East Side since trying to escape his first wife by jumping out a window. One night he finds a runaway named Melodie St. Ann Celestine (Evan Rachel Wood), who has fled her life in Mississippi and takes up residence in Boris's loft. Eventually, Melodie's painfully stereotyped evangelical parents — played by Patricia Clarkson and Ed Begley Jr. with as much dignity as they can muster — arrive on the scene.

With its preposterous, self-serving climax, the film plays like a warped kind of summa of Allen's tortured relationship with women. (AH)

though—or maybe because—your parents hated it. It's that adolescent, in-your-face offensive rock 'n' roll that—admit it—still has a place in your heart. Growling guitars and scorching lyrics only add to the band's bone-shaking persona. If you're a fan of hard rock, punk or simply stickin' it to the man, this is the band for you. B.A.

British punk-rock noisemakers Lovvers have that hardcore, early grunge thing down pat. When paired with its raw energy, the band's ram-bunctious riffs and unintelligible lyrics remind us of its punk predecessors, the Ramones. ## Lindsay Lohan feigns pregnancy to keep her job in 'Labor Pains'

TV MOVIE | Lohan, the actress, returns a little older and no worse for wear in the made-for-TV comedy "Labor Pains" (8 p.m., ABC Family, Sun.).

Lohan portrays Thea, an attractive 20-something beset by cruel fate and even crueler co-workers. How poor is she? She rides the bus. In Los Angeles.

She had to leave college after the accidental death of her parents to raise her younger sister, an ungrateful and judgmental brat. Stuck in a dead-end job at a low-end publisher of arcane military history, Thea suffers her fool of a boss (Chris Parnell, "30 Rock") in order to pay for her sister's education. But when he impetuously threatens her with termination, she fakes a pregnancy to save her salary and situation.

Lindsay Lohan and Cheryl Hines star in a made-for-TV comedy Sunday at 8 p.m.

She's aided in this scheme by co-worker Lisa (Cheryl Hines), a cynical woman who enjoys helping her fake impending motherhood.

"Pains" becomes increasingly complicated and silly as Thea struggles to maintain her story. A game supporting cast includes Janeane Garofalo as a talk-show host, Luke Kirby as a handsome publisher and "American Idol" veteran Kevin Covais as a creepy intern. Creed Bratton (Creed from "The Office") also shows up for a short, memorable cameo. KEVIN McDONOUGH (UNITED FEATURE SYNDICATE)

Little Shop Of People's Treasures

REALITY | The down-market trend continues with "Pawn Stars" (10 p.m., History, Sun.), a look at a family-run shop in Las Vegas. The Harrisons evaluate various items to either buy or pawn, including a reproduction of a suit of Roman armor worn by a Caesar's Palace employee and a 3-ton table saw.

"Pawn" pads the hour with forced levity, but it can't disguise the desperation of the clients, residents of a casino city who have run out of luck. KEVIN McDONOUGH (UNITED FEATURE SYNDICATE)

weekend lineup

SPONGE-A-PALOOZA

Ten will get you 50 if you live in a pineapple under the sea. The 50-episode marathon of SPONGEBOB

SQUAREPANTS (8 p.m., Fri., ends Sun., Nickelodeon) celebrates the 10th anniversary of the cartoon.

GUILTY PLEASURE

Every week, CATCH IT KEEP IT (10 p.m., Science, Fri.) offers a new opportunity to watch something expensive be broken.

RISK TAKER

Silas continues his controversial land deal with Gath on KINGS (8 p.m., NBC, Sat.).

EXTRA-CORNY

Now in its second season, THE BILL ENGVALL SHOW (9 p.m., and 9:30 p.m. TBS, Sat.) makes an obvious effort to recreate the family sitcom of old.

Samuel L. Jackson is the man in charge at this Sunday's ESPY Awards.

ENTER GUINEVERE

Arthur is smitten on MERLIN (8 p.m., NBC, Sun.).

FAIL-SAFE EMCEE

Samuel L. Jackson hosts the 17th annual ESPY AWARDS (9 p.m., ESPN, Sun.). KEVIN McDONOUGH (UNITED FEATURE SYNDICATE)

TYPECASTING Medical Drama Regular Martha Plimpton has been tapped for a multi-episode arc on ABC's "Grey's Anatomy." Starting with the season premiere of "Grey's," Plimpton will appear as the mother of a young patient. Plimpton received a Tony nomination this year for "Pal Joey." On TV, she previously recurred on NBC's "ER." (THE HOLLYWOOD REPORTER)

NO 25%

"I can't get over this country's reluctance to adhere to the simple concept of 'you make more money, you pay more taxes.' It's not socialism, folks — it's common sense."

COMMENTER DEMONFAFA

"Of course, it's fair. The rich have benefited the most from tax cuts over the past 10 years. At the same time, health care benefits should be taxed for the rest of us, too."

COMMENTER PHILIMUS

"No. When did America lose its desire to work hard and earn for themselves? We're becoming a nation of handouts."

Horoscope

By Stella Wilder

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're likely to attract a great deal of attention the more you try to hide in the background. Like it or not, you're on.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's a good day to examine changing dynamics in certain key relationships. Once you get your work done, things will seem to be looking up.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You're usually a good judge of character, but you may miss the boat dramatically and find yourself in a good deal of hot water.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Don't let a new responsibility go to your head—you're still the same person; you simply have a little more to do.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) You don't want to dull your senses in any way; do whatever you must—or avoid whatever you must—to keep things clear and sharp.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) You may be able to transform a dream into reality—or, if not, to come very close to reaching a long-established goal.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You may have to be content seeing things through someone else's eyes. You may not be ready to face what comes head-on.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Surrounding yourself with more things isn't likely to provide what you're really after. You're in need of some very serious soul-searching.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) What you do with even small amounts of money can have a greater impact on you and others than expected. Avoid any large expenditure.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Now is not the time to make a commitment that cannot be altered or, if necessary, broken politely. You want to keep all options open.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You can afford to be a little more tolerant of others. The more open-minded and accepting you can be, the more others will accept you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Guard against those who would intrude on your time and your privacy and try to get you to sacrifice what you call your own.

Yesterday's Solution

SAMURAI SUDOKU | HARD

Fill in each column, row and 3x3 box with the digits 1 through 9 without repeating any. The twist in Samurai Sudoku is that the digits that appear in the overlapping boxes must work for both puzzles. A piece of advice to get you started: Don't focus on completing one grid at a time. Keep the whole puzzle in mind as you go, because filling in a number in one grid could give you clues to another.
